“I am a listener first. I strive to understand my patients’ needs and earn their trust. I stand behind them with my expertise to help them navigate and improve their lives.”

About Danielle Crawford, DPM

When Dr. Danielle Crawford’s uncle injured his legs, she learned a podiatrist could treat his fractures, burns, wounds and gait abnormalities. This began her love of her profession. Today, she is board certified with the American Board of Podiatric Medicine and specializes in biomechanics and diabetic care.

“I am armed with the skills to help seniors with their foot and ankle ailments,” says Dr. Crawford. “I am a listener first. I strive to understand my patients’ needs and earn their trust. I stand behind them with my expertise to help them navigate and improve their lives.”

Dr. Crawford and her husband relocated to Jacksonville from the DC area with their son. She likes to sing and dance and play board games.
