“Helping someone get over a challenge or achieve a specific goal is very rewarding. However, what I enjoy best is the bond formed with my patients over time.”

About Naiema Benson, DO

Dr. Naiema Benson is a board-certified osteopathic physician who’s wanted to care for patients since she was a preschooler. Over the years, Dr. Benson has helped patients of many diverse backgrounds. She ultimately became focused on seniors, knowing they often have the greatest needs.

“Helping someone get over a challenge or achieve a specific goal is very rewarding,” Dr. Benson says. “However, what I enjoy best is the bond formed with my patients over time.”

When she’s not with patients or keeping up with medical research, Dr. Benson can be found spending time with her family. They love playing games and watching movies together. Dr. Benson is also interested in Africa and would like to visit some of its countries one day.
