

“There’s nothing more rewarding than using my knowledge and kindness to change patients’ lives.”

About Christopher D. Berrezueta Reinoso, MD, MPH

Growing up in a community of limited resources inspired Dr. Christopher D. Berrezueta Reinoso to become a physician for those in need. Knowing how vulnerable seniors are, he’s dedicated to giving them the attention they deserve. “I really enjoy talking with them and helping them understand what causes their issues, how to improve them, and how to prevent others,” Dr. Berrezueta Reinoso says. “There’s nothing more rewarding than using my knowledge and kindness to change patients’ lives.”

When he’s not with patients or keeping up with medical research, Dr. Berrezueta Reinoso likes to spend time with loved ones, walking, singing, and playing guitar. He also loves to experience other cultures and hopes to visit many other countries someday.
