

“The best part of my job is seeing how happy people are after receiving much-needed podiatric care. ”

About Indolfo Luna, DPM

Dr. Indolfo Luna became inspired to pursue podiatric medicine during his undergraduate years. “I was interested in how specialized podiatry school was and how podiatrists work a lot with diabetic patients,” he explains. Dr. Luna strives to treat his patients like family and enjoys getting to know them beyond their health concerns. He takes pride in educating patients on ways to keep their feet healthy. “The best part of my job is seeing how happy people are after receiving much-needed podiatric care,” he says.

In his spare time, Dr. Luna loves walking and hiking. He especially likes visiting the Missouri Botanical Gardens. Dr. Luna also finds enjoyment in completing Suduko puzzles and reading history or historical fiction books.
