

“I am a Christian, and my love for God gives me a compassion for people and fuels my passion to make a difference in the lives of those I come across.”

About Ellen Kim, MD

Dr. Ellen Kim first became interested in medicine after watching her grandfather struggle with various health issues. “I wanted to be able to help folks like my grandfather,” she explains. She likes getting to know her patients through frequent visitations and says the relationships she forms with them is her favorite part of her profession. She aims to improve the quality of life of her patients. “I am a Christian, and my love for God gives me a compassion for people and fuels my passion to make a difference in the lives of those I come across,” she says.

In her free time, Dr. Kim enjoys watching her daughters play field hockey. When she can, she plays in an adult league. She also likes going to the beach and watching K-Dramas.
