About Bianca Dubovan, MD

Dr. Bianca Dubovan knew at a young age that she wanted to be a doctor. “I love building a connection with each patient and getting to know them,” she says. She adds, “Gaining my patient’s trust is the most important first step. Then, it’s listening attentively and being there for my patients at all times.” She believes in “patient-centered decision-making” and attributes her patience and respect for the senior population to the close relationships she had with her grandparents. “I enjoy listening to their tales and learning from their wisdom and life experiences,” she says.

Dr. Dubovan loves traveling and learning about different cultures. Born in Romania, she also lived in Canada and New Jersey before settling in Florida.
