About Sara Cáceres Reynolds, MD, FAAFP

Dr. Sara Cáceres Reynolds knew at a young age that she wanted to be a physician. She enjoys the opportunity to learn from the senior population’s wisdom and life experiences while caring for them. “I want to help them navigate the complex healthcare environment, so they have one less thing to worry about,” she says. She loves learning about her patients’ families, backgrounds, and celebrations. She adds, “We usually end up talking about food. We can all bond over our respective comfort food!” She strives to “help patients feel heard and empowered” by educating them, so “they can take better care of themselves.”

Dr. Reynolds loves spending her free time with family and friends. She also enjoys RV camping and reading.
