About Troy A. Dowers, M.D.

Dr. Troy A. Dowers discovered his passion for caring for the senior population while volunteering at a nursing home during his freshman year of high school. This passion then grew while pursuing his master’s degree in Medical Anthropology. “I am passionate about medical care of seniors and in helping improve their quality of life,” he says. He is excited to exclusively serve seniors with ChenMed. He strives to “be accessible to patients” and encourages them to “call or come into clinic for any health concerns.” He loves “going the extra distance” to ensure patients feel cared for.

In his free time, Dr. Dowers enjoys scuba diving, reading, and listening to audiobooks. He also enjoys exploring Medical Anthropology.
