About Akilah Bates, MD, DipABLM

Dr. Akilah Bates is grateful to “be a part of other’s healing journeys” as a physician. She explains, “I decided to pursue a career in medicine because I wanted to help people live healthier and freer lives. After some years in the field, I realized that I am more of a witness to people helping themselves.” She loves the opportunity to get to know her patients and learn from the wisdom of her senior patients.”I try to discover the root cause of what is making people feel sick. So much of chronic disease is due to lifestyle factors [...] I like to work with people to make changes in these areas.

In her down time, Akilah can be found hiking, running, or practicing yoga. She also enjoys learning about permaculture and natural healing.
