“Patients should understand their care, not just comply with it.”

About Jason Woody, D.O.

Dr. Jason Woody was inspired to pursue a career in medicine by his grandfather, who was an orthopedic surgeon. “The way he listened, explained things clearly, and genuinely cared about their well-being showed me what medicine should look like,” he explains. He feels especially “energized” when caring for seniors. “What attracted me to this role is the opportunity to practice preventive, relationship-based medicine, rather than reactive, visit-by-visit care,” he explains. He builds strong relationships through consistency and honesty. “Patients should understand their care, not just comply with it,” he says.

In his free time, Jason can be found enjoying quality time with his wife and three kids or exploring new technology.
