“Providing sound medical advice allows patients to make informed decisions regarding their healthcare. Individuals can then use this knowledge to lead healthier lives and increase their lifespan.”

About Laura Ann Starkey, DNP, APRN, FNP-BC

Laura Ann Starkey explains that she “pursued a career in nursing to provide education and support to those who are facing uncertainty in their health.” She elaborates, “Providing sound medical advice allows patients to make informed decisions regarding their healthcare. Individuals can then use this knowledge to lead healthier lives and increase their lifespan.” To establish strong relationships with patients, she leads with “trust and honesty.”

Laura enjoys learning about history and others cultures and religions in her spare time. “I love to travel and explore historic landmarks and cultural/ethnic traditions to gain a better understanding of those with different cultural and ethnic bacgrounds,” she says.
