“I work in collaboration with my patients to build a plan that makes sense for them in their present health situation. It’s their care. I am the coach offering advice, suggestions, and encouragement.”

About Lynda Jayne Barry, M.D.

For over 30 years, Dr. Lynda Jayne Barry has been caring for others. “Helping folks in the latter part of life be able to live their fullest and best life is what I am called to,” she says. She loves getting to know her patients beyond their medical concerns. She explains, “I build a relationship with presence and focus on the whole person in front of me.” She adds, “I work in collaboration with my patients to build a plan that makes sense for them in their present health situation. It’s their care. I am the coach offering advice, suggestions, and encouragement.”

In her down time, Lynda enjoys needlework, watercolor painting, tending to her vegetable garden, and spending time with her dogs and chickens.
