A CHENMED COMPANY

“I advocate for these vulnerable patients, support their families, and make a measurable difference in helping seniors navigate chronic conditions and maintain their highest possible level of functioning.”

About Gloria Adwere, MSN, CNP, APRN-FNP-C

Gloria Adwere was drawn to medicine by a deep desire to make a meaningful impact on people's lives — combining her love of science, problem-solving, and compassion. She chose to specialize in senior care because older adults often have complex health needs and deserve dedicated support to maintain their independence, wellness, and dignity. "I advocate for these vulnerable patients, support their families, and make a measurable difference in helping seniors navigate chronic conditions and maintain their highest possible level of functioning," she says.

Gloria's patient-centered approach focuses on education, empowerment, and long-term wellness — addressing both physical and emotional needs to help patients feel confident and engaged in managing their own health. Her commitment to truly listening was recently recognized with a Daisy Award, honoring her dedication to never rushing patients through their care. "I strive to create a welcoming environment where patients feel heard, understood, and supported in every step of their health journey," she says.

When not with patients, Gloria enjoys taking walks, cooking and baking, and unwinding with a good comedy show or movie.
