“The best outcomes come from partnership, trust, and meeting people where they are in their health journey.”

About Terri Wallace, MSN, APRN, FNP-C

Terri Wallace is a dual-certified Family and Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner dedicated to providing comprehensive, patient-centered care. Her dual certification allows her to approach each patient holistically, recognizing the close connection between physical and emotional health. "The best outcomes come from partnership, trust, and meeting people where they are in their health journey," she says.

Terri brings broad clinical experience across primary care, emergency medicine, chronic disease management, addiction medicine, and obesity management. She works closely with patients managing complex and long-term conditions, focusing on prevention, education, and practical strategies that support lasting lifestyle change and improved quality of life. Known for her compassionate and approachable style, Terri creates a space where patients feel heard, respected, and empowered in their care.
