“This career combines the two things I love.”

About Adithya Gandhi, MD, FACC

Dr. Adithya “Ed” Gandhi is a cardiologist drawn to medicine by a passion for scientific thinking and a deep desire to help others be the best they can be. "This career combines the two things I love," he says. He chose to work with the senior population because they are among the most vulnerable — and most deserving of dedicated, compassionate care. As a cardiologist, Dr. Gandhi builds strong bonds with his patients by working alongside them to truly understand their cardiac conditions and the reasoning behind their therapies, fostering trust through clear, thorough communication and honest empathy.

Outside of the office, Dr. Gandhi loves traveling the world, playing chess, and watching movies. He also makes it a point to connect with his adult children every day, no matter where they are in the country.
