"Caring for diverse populations including seniors is deeply rewarding," she says. For Gloria, every patient encounter is an opportunity to learn, grow, and provide compassionate, patient-centered care. She values honoring her patients' beliefs and traditions, and is a strong advocate for equitable healthcare for everyone. "This work reinforces my dedication to promoting inclusivity, understanding, and dignity in every patient encounter," she says.

When not with patients, Gloria enjoys cooking, trying new dishes, and spending quality time with her daughters.
