“It’s both a clinical challenge and a personal privilege to support their health while honoring their life stories and preserving their dignity.”

About Kamaljeet Bhatia, M.D.

For Dr. Kamaljeet Bhatia, working in healthcare is the “perfect blend of purpose, passion, and lifelong learning.” She particularly enjoys providing seniors with “thoughtful, comprehensive care,” explaining, “It’s both a clinical challenge and a personal privilege to support their health while honoring their life stories and preserving their dignity.” Trust is foundational in her practice. She strives to understand her patients’ perspectives and needs to provide “personalized care plans” and empower them to take “control of their health. “I believe healing involves not just the body but also mind and spirit,” she says.”

In her down time, Dr. Bhatia loves spending time in nature and enjoying quality time with family.
