“I build strong relationships by speaking like a normal person and joking with them.”

About Joseph Orzechowski, MD

Dr. Joseph "Joe" Orzechowski, MD was inspired to care for the senior population by a deeply personal motivation — watching his own parents and in-laws navigate the increasing health challenges that come with aging. That experience gave him a firsthand understanding of what older adults and their families truly need from a physician.

Dr. Orzechowski brings a refreshingly approachable style to his practice — speaking plainly, connecting genuinely, and bringing humor to his patient interactions. "I build strong relationships by speaking like a normal person and joking with them," he says. He listens attentively to his patients' needs and is committed to providing the best care he can bring to every encounter.
