“I became interested in medicine as a result, and specifically caring for the senior population.”

About Elizabeth Shandor, DO

Dr. Elizabeth "Beth" Shandor was inspired to pursue medicine by a cherished childhood memory — accompanying her grandmother to doctor's appointments and being deeply impressed by the care she received. "I became interested in medicine as a result, and specifically caring for the senior population," she says. That early experience planted a seed that grew into a lifelong dedication to serving older adults.

Beth builds relationships by ensuring her patients know she will always listen and address their concerns. "It is more like a partnership built on trust," she says. She is committed to providing care based on the most up-to-date guidelines, believing that evidence-based medicine is the foundation of making a positive impact in her patients' lives.
